SAHARA MOTORS DUBAI

The 2026 Toyota Hilux Double Cab Pickup DLX-G2 is a robust and dependable vehicle designed for versatility, durability, and performance. Powered by a 2.4L 4-cylinder diesel engine featuring 16 valves, DOHC, and Dual VVT-i technology, it provides practical performance for everyday driving and demanding applications. The pickup features an automatic transmission and 4WD capability, providing confident control across urban roads, highways, work sites, and challenging terrain. With seating for five passengers and an 80-liter fuel tank, the Toyota Hilux offers practical capacity for work and leisure. Its durable chassis, rear differential lock, and capable suspension further enhance its performance and functionality.

The Toyota Hilux DLX-G2 is equipped with double-wishbone front suspension and leaf springs with a rigid rear axle, providing stability and durability across different driving conditions. Ventilated disc brakes at the front and rear contribute to dependable braking performance, while ABS, Vehicle Stability Control, Hill-start Assist Control, and Trailer Sway Control enhance driving confidence and vehicle control. The rear differential lock improves traction on demanding surfaces. The pickup rides on 17-inch steel wheels with 225/70R17 tyres, while power steering supports easier handling. Exterior features include halogen headlamps, chrome electric outside mirrors with turn signals, a chrome radiator grille, chrome door handles, a body-color bumper, deck guard frame, rear steel step bumper, body stripes, and a chrome fuel lid.

Inside, the Toyota Hilux DLX-G2 provides a practical cabin designed for comfort and convenience. The five-seater configuration features separate high-type fabric seats, while the manual air conditioning system allows occupants to adjust cabin temperature according to their preference. A 4-spoke synthetic urethane steering wheel with manual tilt adjustment includes audio, telephone, and voice controls for convenient operation. The pickup also features power windows, wireless door locking, an overhead console, front cool box, front personal lamp, and LED room lamp. For entertainment, the AM/FM/DVD audio system is supported by two speakers. Driver and front passenger airbags provide essential occupant protection, while the vehicle combines practical equipment, durable construction, and functional design for work, travel, and everyday driving.
